Too much faith should not be put in the glowing accounts from Paris of the excellent condition of Jack Johnson and Frank Moran, who fight for the heavyweight title late this afternoon.

The memory is still fresh of the reports sent from Coulon's training camp when he fought Williams. Johnny was posted as being in top form, but he was a mere husk when the gong sounded.

Moran is a good risk at the odds. Johnson is a 2 to 5 favorite, and though little is known of Moran, he will have to be mighty bad not to have that much of a chance against the cinder, considering the life the latter has led.

There is promise of a big house, and that is what tempts the black man. He has gotten all there is out of the title, and is trying for a final financial clean-up to insure a plentiful supply of fizz water for a few years more.

It is noteworthy that a good share of the work of the foreign correspondents consists of dissipating the belief that the fight is shady.

Commercial League Schedule for today: Western Electric vs. Illinois Steel Co.; Swift & Co. vs. Consumers Co.; Commonwealth Edison vs. Automatic Electric Co.

Cubs and Sox Climb—Humphries Effective at Last.

The results of yesterday's ball games brought shake-ups in the National and American Leagues, and we have the unusual spectacle of the St. Louis Browns occupying the second rung of the Johnson ladder, only three games behind the Athletics.

The Sox, through the agency of seven straight wins, are now but half a game below Boston for fifth place, and only two games back of Washington, the fourth team in the pennant dash.

The Cubs, by beating the Reds twice in one afternoon, moved into
